Token Ecosystem

What is Agareum?

Agareum is an online cryptocurrency multiplayer gaming platform enabling users to play against each other in a head-to-head battle for various tokens which can be picked up during each game. The arena represents a petri dish where cells navigate around various obstacles to absorb each other to accumulate each others tokens. Players are provided an opportunity to play to fill their bags through competitive blockchain casual gaming.

What is AGR?

The AGR token enables a host of ecosystem utilities allowing avid, competitive gamers to enjoy further platform benefits. The AGR token offers access to future platform features as well as in-game extras, such as custom skins and game play boosting. In order to gain access to upcoming Gamedrops™, we have created a tiered staking mechanism that enables access to additional gameplay functions and discounted access to third-party Gamedrops™.

The AGR ecosystem will grow as we add new game modes, and new features on the platform. AGR opens the doors to all Gamedrops™, ultimately opening doors to plenty of fun, exciting opportunities to challenge other players and fill your bags!

Each user has a native in game wallet that will be used for receiving, storing or withdrawing your tokens. The ERC-20 compatible wallets will be used to store loads of various tokens from the Gamedrops™, which can further be withdrawn into an external ERC20 wallet at a later stage.

Agareum has a unique distribution structure that slowly "drips" tokens releases as required by the players for games played. The total in game allocation of 55% will be released with 1% at a time, starting with the first 20 AGR Gamedrops™.

What is a Gamedrop™?

A Gamedrop™, or gamified Airdrop, takes the concept of an airdrop one step further. The process of creating true and authentic community members is based on their commitment to go that extra mile. We have essentially developed a two-sided online multiplayer marketplace between projects and bounty hunters, where projects are able to expand their communities in a fun and engaging manner, while community members are provided an addictive and appealing gaming environment where they are able to play against each other head-to-head, and collect the tokens provided by these projects during actual game play.

How a Gamedrop™ works?

Blockchain or Crypto projects/companies allocate tokens to our platform, and with that we schedule a certain number of games using our different game modes. Once a Gamedrop™ begins you will be able to login, and play against other players while picking up that project's tokens along the way. Just like Airdrops, Gamedrops™ allow a limited number of tokens and so it is up to you how many games you participate in to fill your bags.

Third Party Gamedrop's™

Coming Soon

A third party Gamedrop™ (gamified airdrop) is when a project utilises the Agareum platform and infrastructure to distribute tokens. We invite projects to distribute via our platform and allow us to structure a campaign for marketing and PR support. Alleviate the stress with a trusted distribution team and claim the badge of innovative community engagement.

AGR Token and Ecosystem

Players must accumulate and stake/hodl AGR tokens in order to gain access to platform features, but more importantly the upcoming Gamedrops™. Our staking model requires low, but consistent requirement of games to be played by platform users in order to qualify for more Gamedrops™, as more in-game tokens are released.

The AGR token will be used across the platform for various purchases, transactions and entry to events such as Gamedrops™ but it's primary utility is to be used as a staking mechanism for access as displayed in the below diagram.

Gamedrop™Schedule

The first Gamedrop™ of official AGR tokens will start with 1% of supply. We will use the data collected for this Gamedrop™ to determine the rollout of future games, that makes sense to the token ecosystem

After the initial 10% has been distributed/won, the next set of AGR Gamedrop's™ will continue. Token allocations, number of games and game fees will be determined Gamedrop™ by Gamedrop™ that makes the most sense for the ecosystem.

We will assess the data and run the next 10 games drops according to our research and understanding of the optional fees, staking and games requirements.
